

Katharina VON SCHNURBEIN, M.St. MES

Coordinator on combating antisemitism
and fostering Jewish life

Katharina von Schnurbein was appointed the first European Commission Coordinator on combating antisemitism and fostering Jewish life in December 2015. Her mandate includes liaising closely with Jewish communities, Member States, EU institutions and international organisations as well as propose and implement policy to address antisemitism, foster Jewish life and ensure Holocaust remembrance.

Prior, she worked for five years as part of the advisory team to European Commission President José Manuel Barroso, responsible for the Dialogue with churches, religions and non-confessional organisations as well as civil society organisations and think tanks in Germany. Katharina started working for the Commission in 2002, serving as press officer for the EU Delegation in Prague. With enlargement in 2004, she moved to Brussels as spokesperson on Employment, social affairs and equal opportunities for the Czech EU Commissioner Vladimír Špidla.

Her educational background includes undergraduate studies of Political Science and Slavonic Studies at Charles University in Prague and the University of Bonn, a Master of Slavonic Studies from Oxford University (1997) and a Master of European Studies from the Center for European Integration Studies in Bonn (1999). She spent the academic year 2017/18 as EU-Fellow at the European University Institute in Florence researching on measures to combat antisemitism across Europe.

Katharina received the B'nai B'rith Europe's Human Rights Prize in 2018, the Marietta and Friedrich Torberg Medal of the Jewish Community of Vienna in 2021, the Rabbi Moshe Rosen Prize of the Conference of European Rabbis in 2022, the ELNET Shofar Voice of Conscience Award of the European Leadership Network in 2023, and the AJC David Harris Award by the American Jewish Committee in 2023.

Katharina is married and has four children. She speaks German, English, French, Dutch and Czech.
